DONOR IN SPIRIT

Words of Remembrance

Phoenix always wanted to live life through a book. So if life was a book, Phoenix's life would be described as an adventure novel. He had been through so much in his short life, but through every adventure he impacted so many. Phoenix was quirky, smart and lovable. He loved to talk, and learn everything about anything. He loved attention, and always being able to help. He was a rambunctious boy, riding bikes, playing basketball, and his favorite, playing baseball with dad. He loved to cuddle while watching tv. He loved animals especially his guinea pigs. His grin and his laugh will be missed, but most of all he will be missed.
